TEXAS NEWS.

NEGROES SHOT DOWN IN COLD BLOOD. A CORRECT REPORT OF THE INHUMAN BUTCHERY BY ONE WHO VISITED THE SCENE.

(Written for the Bee.)

Galveston Texas, Sept. 29, '87
Editor of the Bee:

The same old worn out tale; the same disgusting and horrible butchery of Negroes continues in this "land of the free and home of the brave," and to cap the climax the usual American chestnut, that the Negroes fired into white men the white men returned the fire killing several of the Negroes.—By this time you have seen the telegraphic dispatches in regard to the so-called bloody collision between the Negroes and whites in Matagorda county this state. Knowing how the white papers distort the dispatches, and suppress the news that will bring the crimes of our oppression before the eyes of the public; and being almost on the spot where the slaughter of the innocent took place I send you the correct version of it.

On Tuesday 27th while at Brenham, Washington county, the same county where a number of colored men were so uncerimoniously shot down for daring to exercise the elective franchise, not many months ago,—I purchased a Galveston News, and to my surprise read the flaming heading: "The Negroes of Matagorda rising; the vicious villians determined to annihilate the whites, etc. etc." I immediately took the then awaiting train for the scene of the riot, knowing in the mean time that the article in the News was intended to be read backward. On my arrival at Columbia I found the white people from ten years and upwards armed parading the streets; and the colored men scared and humble. Some fifty colored families were packing up their bedding, clothes, etc., and preparing to leave town orders to do so. I walked around town during the day, not without being questioned and receiving an occasional kick from brutish white men and boys; I succeeded in going around and picking up the information I now send you by pretending to be in search of my mother and taking her away from the bad colored people who are ill-treating the helpless and unfortunate whites. The following is the truth of the whole affair: A Negro constable named Massena was serving writs in the neighborhood and among the number against whom was a writ was a white man named Sanborn, a Negro hater and an outlaw.—On arriving at Sanborn's house Massena told him his business. Sanborn after a volley of abuses declared he was a white man and no dam "nigger" could arrest him. Massena told him, so the report goes from eye witnesses, that he was only discharging his duty, where upon Sanborn ordered him off and before the unfortunate constable could reply or walk off Sanborn shot him and fled. The Negroes immediately gave the alarm for the purpose of capturing him. Sanborn's friend fearing that he would be caught and summarily dealt with; begun intimidating the Negroes and finally put out the report that the Negroes had killed Sanborn revenging the death of Massena, which would have been justifiable if true, but such is not the case for Sanborn has not been found dead or live, but is out hiding to keep out of the clutches of the law. —In order to be consistent with the report they had circulated about the death of Sanborn; the white men of the county, some 150, armed to the teeth and headed by the sheriff made an excursion in the colored settlements arresting on suspicion, and without a warrant every Negro they came across. Those of them who refused to go or protested against the illegal arrest was shot down; five were killed and seven seriously wounded. All this happened on Sunday when the colored people were preparing to go to church and serve their God. Just as soon as the massacre was completed the news was telegraphed over the state, that the "niggers was rising." The white people throughout the state became aroused and the papers began setting fire to the flames. The "Houston Post" says:

"After the finding of the dead colored constable, Sanborne, the man for whom the constable had a warrant, mysteriously disappeared and it was thought that he had been murdered by the blacks. A posse went to arrest the negroes who were suspected of the supposed crime. The negroes opened fire upon the officers and the officers returned the fire, killing four of them."

The Negroes according to the Post opened fire but got killed. The "News" says.

"The sheriff and posse started to arrest the leaders of the disturbances, when they suddenly came upon a log cabin literally alive with armed negroes. Upon their approaching the cabin the negroes opened fire upon them but fortunately at too long a range. The whites then advanced upon them at a brisk trot and fired upon them, with the result before mentioned."

The statement of the News contradicts that of the Post in the first place there were no disturbances, for according to the Post's version of the affair the posse was in hunt for the suspected Negroes, and the idea of armed Negroes firing into a body of white men who suddenly came upon them without not even wounding one is entirely too absurd to countenance. The most conspicuous thing about it is that aside from the distorted dispatches of the correspondents, not an editorial has appeared in any of the great dailies condemning the "riot."

The whites being in the wrong the press has kept mum, and this is the way we are treated by enlightened editors who do not regard the public duty imposed upon them, instead of having thought, justice and magnanimity they are traitors to liberty and brokers in the peace and prosperity of a wronged and injured people. By order of Governor Ross, the Houston Light Guards, Prairie Rangers and Pearson Guards and numerous private companies to say nothing of the armed whites who voluntarily repelled to Matagorda and now has possession of the county. In the county the colored numbers 4 to 1 white and could have long ago massacred Matagorda is a peaceable and law abiding people and have no desire to do any thing in the way of blood shed. The Galveston "News" of this morning says that the "Matagorda affair has resulted in drawing from the gun stores of this city their entire stock of rifles." The white ladies gave a ball last night to one of the returned regiments for their gallantry and heroic endurance. Before leaving Columbia I became sick at heart to see the colored women trembling with babes in their arms, and tears trickling down their dusky cheeks.

Their husbands with a bundle of bedding on their backs preparing to fly from this hell hole. It remains to be seen, that if the American people will suffer the outrages to continue upon a poor and inoffensive people, who to save their lives are forced to flee from their homes, ere long the whole nation will be made to pay the penalty of those in human crimes. It may be through flood, or tears, or famine, or blood, yet it will come. God is just and his vengeance sleepeth not.
